CONCERN FOUNDATION

FUNDING CANCER RESEARCH WORLDWIDE

THE CONCERN FOUNDATION STORY

Conceived out of friendship by fifteen couples in 1968 who wanted to make sure their dollars counted in the fight against cancer, CONCERN is an acronym (CONquer CanCER Now) for one of Los Angeles's best-known and most beloved charities. With 90-95% of net proceeds (based on 2016 financial audit) going directly to research worldwide, Concern has raised more than $60 million dollars and funded over 750 cancer research scientists studying all forms of cancer, primarily in the areas of cancer genetics, cell biology, and immunology. Concern's grants focus on brilliant young cancer researchers seeking funding for their first major research project. By targeting talented post-doctoral scientists and providing critically needed seed money for innovative projects, Concern Foundation bridges the gap that currently exists in the scientific research community. The organization's mission is clear - to make sure that every dollar that they raise is used to find the cause and eventual cure for this devastating disease.

OUR CONCERN IS YOUR CONCERN

Thanks to the guidance of our Scientific Review Committee, Concern Foundation has committed over $2.5 million dollars (July 2016– June 2018) in grants to more than 60 of the best and the brightest young cancer researchers throughout the world focusing on a multitude of cancer research areas.*
